Background

Course History

- ❖ Workshop on Molecular Evolution
 - ❖ Focus on molecular phylogenetics and population genetics
 - ❖ Woods Hole, Marine Biological Laboratory, USA
- ❖ Workshop on Genomics
 - ❖ Czech Republic - January 2008
 - ❖ Fort Collins, CO, USA - July 2011
 - ❖ Smithsonian Institution - November 2011
- ❖ Workshop on Population and Speciation Genomics - 2016

Workshop Philosophy

- ❖ Immersive and Intensive
- ❖ Workshop not a symposium
- ❖ Isolated & idyllic
- ❖ Emphasis on professional network building between faculty, staff and student

Why Cesky Krumlov?

Considerations

- ❖ relatively inexpensive
- ❖ relatively isolated
- ❖ idyllic
- ❖ centrally located in Europe
- ❖ appropriate infrastructure
- ❖ community support

Expectations

- ❖ exhaustion
- ❖ frustration
 - ❖ bioinformatics is not a push button field
 - ❖ > 60 participants on-line simultaneously
 - ❖ you will not finish every exercise
 - ❖ finishing should not be your goal. Learning should be!
 - ❖ you will not become an expert in 2-weeks

Expectations (more positive!)

- ❖ exposure to unprecedented faculty expertise in the field
- ❖ international faculty and student representation
- ❖ opportunities for collaboration
- ❖ intensive education in a relatively short period of time
- ❖ introductory knowledge on new topics

Advice

- ❖ wear your nametag
- ❖ take breaks (network!)
- ❖ sleep
- ❖ be patient
- ❖ ask questions of faculty, instructors and each other
- ❖ work in pairs/small groups
- ❖ take advantage of any open / free lab time
- ❖ remember everything will be on the web site after you leave
- ❖ enjoy the town

Computer Lab (House of Prelate)

House of Prelate

Lab Policies

- ❖ no food or drink inside the computer hall
- ❖ wipe feet and remove coats before entering
- ❖ do not touch the frescoes (walls)
- ❖ we have strict arrival and departure times

Post-lab discussions

- ❖ An important feature of the Workshop
- ❖ Music Bar, Fest Bar, High Hopes

workshop communication
